2) Double click the Display Window and see full screen CA&L without a file list. Access track info by dragging mouse to upper edge of the display. Nice.

And the heart speaks in whispers
And the heart speaks in whispers

And so it's all over
So they've already run
And we all fall down
And the clouds, they blot out the sun

Very soon your world could be different
But you've got your mind set on silence, silence, silence

The skies will break for you, my friend
The skies will break for you, my friend
The waves will part, the seas will rend
The skies will break for you, my friend
The skies will break for you, my friend
The skies will break for you, my friend

It won't be long until it ends
Singing "whoa"

[Post-Chorus]
But the heart speaks in whispers,

you've got to listen

And the crowd is so loud
It feels like they'll drown you out
And the waves crash down
And there's chaos all around
Don't let your mind rest on violence, violence, violence

Oh, the skies will break for you, my friend
The skies will break for you, my friend
The waves will part, the seas will rend
The skies will break for you, my friend
The skies will break for you, my friend
The skies will break for you, my friend
It won't be long until it ends
Singing "whoa"

[Post-Chorus]
Cause the heart speaks in whispers
And the heart speaks in whispers
And the heart speaks in whispers

And the heart speaks in whispers
You've got to listen

Oh, the skies will break for you, my friend
The skies will break for you, my friend
The waves will part, the seas will rend
The skies will break for you, my friend
The skies will break for you, my friend
The skies will break for you, my friend
It won't be long until it ends
Singing "whoa"

Bright lights
Bright lights
Streaming, we're golden!
Sunlight, sunlight
Revealing, we're golden!
And you will know
And you will know it
And you will know
And you will know it
And you will know

4) Click on the existing Recent Albums tab again, select and play any album. Now the lower left Display Window is gone for good ... until you delete the Player tab, at which point the lower left Display Window immediately reappears as in step 1 above. Is this behavior a “feature” or a programming oversight? For me - the latter – and certainly very bothersome until I deciphered the pattern.

The screenshot shows a music player interface with the following elements:

- Top Bar: File Edit View Player Tools Help. The current track is "The Skies Will Break (The Heart Speaks in Whispers) Corinne Bailey Rae" with a progress bar at 0:04 / 4:54 - 44.1 kHz 574 kbps 1 of 16 Tracks.
- Left Sidebar: Contains navigation options like "Playing Now", "Audio", "Cloudplay", "Streaming", "Playlists", "Drives & Devices", and "Services & Plug-ins". The "Recent Albums" option is highlighted.
- Main Area: A grid of album covers. The "Albums" dropdown menu is circled in red. The selected album is "The Heart Speaks in Whispers" by Corinne Bailey Rae.
- Bottom Section: A table titled "The Heart Speaks in Whispers Files" showing track details. The "Action Window" is circled in red.
